Beginning Japanese 名前 _____

Unit 1 Assessment: Presentational Speaking

Learning Targets

- I can greet people.
- I can introduce myself and my family.
- I can state that objects are here, there, or over there.

Scenario 1

You have just gotten a part-time job as a tutor for two Japanese children whose parents work at a new company your town. The family speaks NO English, and are quite nervous about talking to Americans. You have to tell the family some things about yourself to break the ice. Introduce yourself to them for the first time and then tell them a little about your family, in Japanese.

Include the following:

- A greeting
- Your name
- The number of people in your family
- Pets, and any other information you can tell them
