Beginning Japanese

Beginning JAPANESE 名前_____UNIT 2 Assessment: Presentational Writing

Introductions – Learning Targets

- ✓ I can describe my family and the families of others
- ✓ I can write about the basics of a friend's general health.
- ✓ I can write about things someone has or doesn't have
- ✓ I can write about where things are and whether they exist.
- ✓ I can make polite requests and offers

Scenario

You and your best friend, who doesn't speak Japanese, are going to a school in Japan for a short homestay next summer. Write an introductory letter, telling your hosts, the $\boxplus \bot$ (Tayama) family. about you, your friend, and your families.

You will want to include the following:

- The names of family members Some things you have and some people you know
- The number of people in both families Information about pets, and any other information you can give to the $\boxplus \bot$ family to help them get to know you and your friend.

Outline and notes:		